Nine Reasons to be Communications Officer:

1. Passion & Purpose

Do you have a passion for meaningful work and helping people? Are you interested in criminal justice? If this matches your passion, then become a 9-1-1 Communications Officer.

2. Make a Difference

Being a 9-1-1 Communications Officer has a positive impact on the people in your community. What we do matters. You'll be satisfied knowing you had a hand in helping someone in need.

3. Be Part of a Team

Work with a group of amazing people with diverse backgrounds and experiences and be part of a caring culture. Your second family.

4. Be Challenged Every Day

This dynamic career is never boring. No two calls are alike. Every day and every shift are different. Each caller is unique.

5. Work/Life Balance

Enjoy a rotating schedule with days off during the week to enjoy activities or spend more time with your family.

6. Good Salary & Benefits

We offer competitive salaries and comprehensive benefits, including dental, health care, disability, and retirement plans.

7. Build a Successful Career

We offer on-the-job training to build your career.

8. Support Your Community

Our strength is helping people and supporting Public Safety, Fire, EMS and Police, to keep your community safe.

9. Learn While You Earn

You'll receive a salary and benefits while learning to be a 9-1-1 Police Dispatcher.
